Topic

Considering the vulnerability to natural disasters of water utilities in the Caribbean region and the varied types of losses resulting from natural disasters, having effective risk transfer solutions tailored to the needs of water utilities is critical to recovery efforts and the resiliency of water supply and treatment systems. IDB Invest hired K&M Advisors who, in association with Alliant Insurance Services, are conceptualizing mutual insurance strategies for Caribbean water utilities. Participants will learn about mutual insurance structures and will have the opportunity to provide valuable feedback on the creation of a mutual designed to address natural disaster-related losses for water utilities.
